

Equilliance Launches Banker Office Technology & Services

Orlando FL, 2009-05-01 -- Equilliance today announced the launch of a new division, Banker Office Technology & Services.

Banker Office will provide comprehensive technology systems and back office support services for mid to large size mortgage businesses.

According to Equilliance President, Tim Mattingly, "In today's challenging mortgage industry, running a successful mortgage company is more difficult than ever.

Equilliance is a family of real estate and financial services companies with over 200 employees and associates.